

2018 CSA Membership Guide

Our Story

Troy Farm is a five-acre diversified vegetable farm located on Madison's northside. We have been growing certified organic food on this land since 2001, and are proud to be the city's first urban farm. We grow over 50 types and 200 varieties of vegetables, herbs, and flowers. Our production focuses on intensive hand-scale techniques and low fossil fuel inputs.

Troy Farm is a program of Community GroundWorks, a nonprofit organization that seeks to connect individuals to nature and local food. As a result, we place a strong emphasis on education and community. Every year we train aspiring growers through our Beginning Farmer Training Program.

If you live in the Madison community, we want to be your farmers!

Market share credit can be used on bulk purchases.
