LINDBERGH COMMUNITY GARDEN

OUR STORY:

The Lindbergh garden is more than just an outdoor classroom. Our garden is also an important part of the community. We certainly believe the garden provides many opportunities for learning, but our primary motivation is growing food for our neighborhood.

OTHER SUCCESSES:

Willy Street Co-op Community Grant

This past summer we donated most of our produce to the Kennedy Heights food pantry. We hope to continue this part of our garden's mission.

We get mulch, compost and seeds free through CAC-Community Action Coalition.

We host workdays with community gardeners and Lindbergh students.

WHAT WE GROW:

Lindbergh students like ready-to-eat produce such as sugar snap peas and Sun Gold tomatoes.

Lindbergh families and community members grow vegetables in plots surrounding the school garden.

During the summer, we donate our produce to the Kennedy Heights food pantry.

TIPS:

Our raised beds are framed with composite lumber. They help build up the soil and protect plants from foot traffic.

We built a sifter out of 2 x 2's and hardware cloth to remove trash and lumps of clay from city compost. The kids love sifting!

We use floating row covers to extend our growing season. Then we are able to harvest greens into the winter months!
